Plane Crashes After Pilot Told To Delay Landing

Wreckage Found Of Mexican Airliner With 18 Aboard

MONTEREY, Mexico (AP) — Wreckage of a twin-engine Mexican airliner with 18 persons aboard that disappeared Thursday after being told to delay its landing at Monterey Airport was found today on a desolate mountain top miles away.

Officials of the airline said two of its pilots flew over the wreckage and saw "not the slightest indication of life." One wing was torn off the wrecked DC3 but the fuselage was intact, the pilots reported. One of the passengers was believed to be Hector Saucedo, one of Mexico's most famed young bullfighters.

Same Spot of Previous Crash The plane crashed atop 4,000-foot Cerro del Fraile, a mountain 15 miles west of Monterey Airport.

That is the same spot where a DC3 crashed while carrying entertainers and newsmen to the Falcon Dam dedication last October in which President Eisenhower participated. Fifteen persons were killed in that crash, including J. Clifford Sailey of the San Diego (Calif.) Union.

Thursday night the airliner, owned by Aerovias de Mexico, arrived over Monterey en route from Mazatlan on the Pacific Coast and the pilot asked permission to land.

The control tower ordered him to wait a few minutes to permit a northbound flight to take off. The last contact with the plane was 11:05 p. m.

Rescuers Sent Out

At 2 a. m. two men notified the airport they saw a plane crash up in the mountains and planes were sent out to look for it this morning.

Two rescue parties including doctors, nurses, police and soldiers were sent immediately to the crash scene.

Because of the rocky terrain covered with thick brush it was expected to be many hours before rescuers could reach the scene. It took three days for ground crews to reach the wreckage of the plane that crashed last October but rescuers were expected to be helped by experience gained in that operation.

A company spokesman said the crash probably resulted in an error by veteran pilot Carlos de Leon who apparently got lost in trying to circle the field.

Jon Lindbergh, Evanston Girl Wed Secretly

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Publicity-shy Jon Morrow Lindbergh, 21-year-old son of the famed New York-to-Paris flier, was wed to blonde Barbara H. Robbins in a secret ceremony last Saturday, marriage records showed today.

The bride, an outdoor girl and Alpinist, was a good match for adventure-loving Lindbergh, himself a mountain climber and marine biology student.

Records found in the Cook county clerk's office showed that the 23-year-old bride was listed as a Northwestern university coed, but the university said she was not registered for this quarter. Lindbergh is a senior at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Mrs. William W. Miller, an aunt of the bride, said the couple was honeymooning and would probably go to Palo Alto to live.

Miss Robbins, daughter of Evanston engineer James S. Robbins, attended Stanford during the 1950-51 and 1951-52 academic years. She was a member of the swimming and Alpine Club there.

Jon's famous "Lone Eagle" father, Charles, and the youth's mother, Anne, attended the ceremony in Mrs. Miller's home in Northfield, a Chicago suburb. Also on hand were the four younger Lindbergh children and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Dwight Whitney Morrow, as well as several members of the bride's family.

The press was not informed of the wedding. The Rev. Walter D. Wagoner, Northwestern university chaplain, performed the ceremony.

William Holden Best actor performance in "Stalag 17."

Frank Sinatra Best supporting actor in "From Here to Eternity."

Audrey Hepburn, William Holden, 'Eternity' Picture Win Oscars

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A story once considered useless as movie material, a big-eyed Hollywood newcomer, Audrey Hepburn, and veteran actor William Holden won coveted Oscars Thursday night at the 26th Academy Award ceremonies.

"From Here to Eternity" reached the rank of a film classic by winning eight separate awards including the "best picture" Oscar—honors that equalled those for old favorite "Gone With the Wind."

Miss Hepburn won the best actress award for her first picture, "Roman Holiday." Holden won his first Oscar for his portrayal of the cynical hero in "Stalag 17."

Song and dance man Frank Sinatra, to the shouts and applause of 2,800 celebrities and fans in the Pantheon Theater here, collected the best supporting actor award for his first serious role, that of a tragic GI in "From Here to Eternity."

One of his co-stars, pretty Donna Reed, shouted "hurray" and raced to the stage to take an Oscar for the best supporting actress of 1953, also an "Eternity" role.

"From Here to Eternity," James Jones' lusty barracks-room novel of Army life in pre-Pearl Harbor days, had been turned down by many major studios before Columbia bought it for the screen. Jones' earthy dialogue and plot had been considered unsuitable for film fare.

Yet it swept the academy awards categories, equalling "Gone With the Wind," and passing "The Best Years of Our Lives," which won seven Oscars.

Fred Zinneman won for best director and Daniel Taradash for best screen play with "Eternity." The movie also scored in the black and white photography and film editing divisions.

Praises Montgomery Clift Zinneman indicated he thought another star of the picture should have been honored, when he said after the ceremony:

"The picture never could have won these honors without Montgomery Clift, he was the heart of the whole movie."

Clift lost in the best actor race. The four happy stars, all first-timers, were:

Peabody 40 mine suspended operations on March 5 until coal business gets better. Both these mines are in Brushy township.

time winners, had been selected in advance polls to win.

Miss Hepburn, now starring on Broadway, walked slowly to the stage of a New York remote control telecast to accept her statuette.

"I think it's like when somebody gives you something to wear that's too big and you have to grow into it," she said later. "My ambition is still to be a great actress."

Holden mumbled, "Wow," as he stumbled out of his seat at the Pantheon, but at the stage he merely mumbled, "thank you." Later he explained he had prepared a speech but had been told time was running short for the NBC telecast of the show.

"I'm going to keep my Oscar in my dressing room at the studio," he grinned. "After all, I won it at the studio."

When Sinatra's name was called near the end of the 90-minute event, he excitedly kissed his escort—his 14-year-old daughter, Nancy.

Later Sinatra said he carried in his pocket a St. Genesius medal that little Nancy and Frank Jr., 10, had given him. It was inscribed, "To Daddy—Our Love From Here to Eternity."

Awaits Birth of Second Baby; First Born 11 Days Ago

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — A sailor's wife, who gave birth to a baby 11 days ago and is expecting another any day now, is making medical history. But her big concern today was whether the next one will be a boy.

A girl was born March 15 to red-haired Mrs. Wilbur Chapman, 31. Doctors said the second baby may come any time during the next six weeks.

"We kind of hope we have a little brother for Susan," said Mrs. Chapman.

Susan Joy, who weighed 3 pounds 14 ounces at birth, was removed from an incubator Thursday for the first time.

Mrs. Chapman's husband, a Navy aviation electrician, was "confused by all the commotion." When Mrs. Chapman entered Chelsea Naval hospital for pre-natal care last December, doctors discovered that she had a double uterus, both of which were pregnant.

Mrs. Chapman said the children will be treated "like twins."

In Chicago, a spokesman for the American Medical Association described such cases as "very rare."

Russia Grants Sovereignty To E. Germany

Opens Way for Separate Peace, Communist Army

BERLIN (AP) — Russia granted East Germany "independence" today but kept 300,000 Soviet occupation troops in the zone to protect the government from enemies of communism.

The Soviets announced Thursday night the granting of sovereignty had resulted from negotiations between the East German regime of Premier Otto Grotewohl and the Kremlin.

In order to safeguard security in the eastern zone, where rioting East Germans were subdued by Soviet tanks last June, the Russians reserved the right to keep their occupation troops in the country until further notice.

At the same time, the Soviet government criticized the Big Three powers for maintaining occupation forces in West Germany.

By granting East Germany sovereignty, the Russians said, the regime would enjoy the privilege of seeking diplomatic recognition with other nations.

The Soviet announcement made it clear the Communist government still would be kept in office by Russian bayonets.

Western authorities regarded the announcement as a propaganda move intended to give the puppet East German government prestige which hitherto it has been unable to win.

The act also was seen as a double-barreled move to embarrass the West because of its delay in granting full sovereignty to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German government, while awaiting ratification of the European Defense Community project.

"Sheer Facade," U. S. Says In Washington, the U. S. State Department called the Soviet maneuver a "sheer facade" and said if Soviet troops were removed "the entire puppet regime would collapse under the weight of hatred and hostility of the populace which it has the effrontery to claim it represents."

Authoritative sources in London said sovereignty "merely fixes East Germany into the orbit of satellite states."

The Soviet Union made its announcement through ADN, the official Communist news service in East Germany.

ADN said the Soviet Union listed three "concessions" to East Germany.

1. The Soviet Union will have the same relations with East Germany as with other sovereign states.

2. East Germany will have freedom to use "its own discretion" in foreign and internal affairs, including relations with West Germany.

3. Soviet supervision of the East German government is lifted.

Death Takes Gilbert Neighbors

Gilbert Neighbors, 28, son of Gordon Neighbors, 432 West South, died Wednesday at the Lincoln home in Lincoln, Ill., where he had lived for the past 18 years.

Besides his father, he is survived by a brother, Glindal, Bakersfield, Calif., a half brother, Gordon Jr., Harrisburg, and a grandmother, Mrs. Sibilia Neighbors Puckett, Harrisburg.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Nazarene church. The pastor, Rev. Robert Winegar, will conduct the service, and burial will be in Sunset Garden cemetery.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home.

Nation Assured of Cuts In Excise Taxes on Furs, Jewelry and Other Items

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation was finally assured today that excise taxes will be cut on furs, jewelry, luggage, cosmetics, entertainment, telephone calls, and travel bills.

In passing a billion-dollar excise cut measure Thursday night, the Senate also virtually guaranteed that present tax rates will be continued for another year on cigarettes, liquor, beer, wine, gasoline, automobiles, trucks and auto parts.

The excise cuts, already approved by the House and certain to be signed into law by the President, will mean lower prices in most cases even though manufacturers or dealers do not have to pass the savings along to their customers.

If the reduction is passed on, a $600 fur coat would become $550. A $12 bottle of perfume would drop to $11, there would be a $2.50 tax saving on a $50 train or plane trip.

The House and Senate versions of the excise tax cuts will go to a joint conference committee for adjustment of differences. There were few major items in dispute. Final agreement and the President's signature are expected next week.

The final Senate vote came after the chamber voted 54-34 against a proposal to deny any excise tax relief except on admissions for theaters and certain other entertainment.

Mr. Eisenhower opposed any excise tax reductions. But he called for extension of taxes due to cut April 1 on automobiles, liquor, cigarettes, gasoline and other items for another year.

Both the House and Senate agreed on these so their extension is assured if Congress completes action on the bill in time for Mr. Eisenhower to sign it before midnight next Wednesday.

Violence Breaks Out on Water Front Strike; Longshoremen Lose NLRB Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence broke out on the New York waterfront again today as striking longshoremen lost another round in their battle for union life.

The port of New York has been virtually shut down for the last 22 days by a strike which is part of the struggle for control of the docks between the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) and the new AFL International Longshoremen's Assn.

Three AFL longshoremen were reported beaten by unidentified hoodlums in two separate incidents in Brooklyn and Manhattan today.

Tugs steamed about their business throughout New York harbor despite union orders to join up with the fight of their fellow ILA unionists.

AFL longshoremen continued to return to work in increasing numbers.

Tugmen, affiliated with the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. but working under contract with a different set of employers, were ordered by the ILA Thursday to observe picket lines of the striking dock workers.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner appealed to President Eisenhower in a partly-worded telegram Thursday night for "sorely needed" help in breaking the strike for which he said the federal government has "sole responsibility."

The White House announced today Wagner's request had been referred to the department of labor.

Ronnie Mitchell Jr. Heads Elks Lodge

H. E. "Ronnie" Mitchell Jr. was elected exalted ruler of Harrisburg B. P. O. Elks lodge No. 1058 at the election meeting held last night.

Others elected were: Estemed leading knight, Bill Scribner; esteemed loyal knight, Verner Joyner Jr.; esteemed lecturing knight, John R. Small; secretary, Wayne Dixon; treasurer, Harry McCabe; tiler, Howard Logsdon; trustee for three years, William S. Epperheimer.

The new exalted ruler will make his appointments soon and the installation will be April 8.

Mr. Epperheimer is the retiring exalted ruler.

Retired Rural Carrier Dies at Golconda

William Y. McCormick, 75, well-known retired rural letter carrier of Golconda, died Wednesday evening during his sleep. The body is now at the Buchanan funeral home where it will remain until funeral time Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Golconda Methodist church.

The pastor, Rev. H. M. Fish, will officiate, and burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

He is survived by four children, Richard, at home, Bob, Hastings, Neb., John, Fairfield, and Mrs. Ada Martin, Colorado.

James R. Logsdon, 74, resident of Shawneetown, died Wednesday at Alton. The body was returned to Shawneetown and received by the Wright funeral home.

The funeral will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Emmanuel Methodist church in Shawneetown with Rev. Edward Miner officiating. Burial will be in the Hogan cemetery.

RCA Introduces Commercial Color Receiver

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Television's "color barrier" was broken today by RCA which introduced its first commercially produced color receivers to representatives of competing firms.

The 15-inch screen sets, to retail for a suggested $1,000, were believed to be the first manufactured on an assembly line basis. RCA spokesmen said a 19-inch receiver was expected to go into production later this year at a "somewhat" higher cost.

Representatives of more than 50 TV parts transmitters and set manufacturers attended today's program at the firm's Bloomington factory for a tour of the plant and a detailed explanation of the RCA color system.

The manufacturers were invited to begin immediate production of color equipment, adapting the RCA-developed system to their own methods through a licensee arrangement.

Predict Mass Production E. C. Anderson, RCA vice-president, said the company already had spent more than $30 million in developing compatible TV and "it may take another 20 million dollars to establish color television."

J. B. Elliott, RCA executive vice president, told the group RCA's "gamble" in introducing color at this time was based on the belief the public and industry were ready for this further step.

He predicted mass production in color TV within three to five years, with sales of three to four million sets yearly. The sets, he said, would retail for about $500 for 19-to-21-inch screens.

At present, however, Elliott indicated RCA would move cautiously on color production. He said RCA would manufacture about 5,000 fifteen-inch sets and a like number of 19-inch receivers this year.

McCarthy's Members of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Senate investigating Subcommittee hoped to name a special counsel today to head the inquiry into McCarthy's fight with the Army. They also served notice the investigation will not be called off in case any of the principals in the dispute resign.

Air Defense: Democratic Sens. Richard B. Russell, Ga., and Estes Kefauver, Tenn., expressed differential views on America's continental air defense after the Senate Armed Services Committee heard a highly-secret report on the urgent problem. Russell said everything possible is being done. Kefauver, however, called for a speed up in preparations for a possible atomic attack.

Group Votes $5.5 Billion for Gov't Agencies

Committee Measure Is $363 Million Below Eisenhower Requests

By United Press

The House Appropriations Committee today voted a record $1,061,000,000 for building up the atomic arsenal with new and better H-bombs and A-bombs.

The committee approved a total of $1,189,960,700 for the Atomic Energy Commission. That figure was not a record, but the amount earmarked for weapons and atomic explosives was.

The AEC money was in a bill carrying $5,566,118,763 for about 20 independent government agencies. It was $363,604,837, or about 6 per cent, below administration requests.

Among the bigger sums voted were $3,779,432,800 for the Veterans Administration, $103,582,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, $112,568,500 for the Housing & Home Finance Agency, and $149,063,000 for the General Services Administration.

Other Agencies For the executive office of the President, the committee voted $8,777,700. All the items still must be passed by House and Senate.

Other agencies covered in the bill included: Civil Service Commission: $47,952,000, a cut of $614,000 below the budget request.

Federal Communications Commission: $6,544,400, a cut of $1,100,000.

General Accounting Office: 31,981,000, a cut of $219,000.

Interstate Commerce Commission: $11,670,000, a cut of $105,000.

National Advisory Commission on Aeronautics: $53,349,000, a cut of $4,871,000.

Selective Service: $29,003,063, a cut of $2,406,937.

Other congressional news: Somebody Lied: The Rev. John A. Hutchison of Williams College has told a House Un-American Activities subcommittee he never cooperated with Communist Party leaders. Three ex-Communists have told the subcommittee he did. Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) said today the Justice Department ought to investigate. Jackson said, "Somebody is lying."

mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep,
too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light-and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of

Births
To Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tanner, Carrier Mills, a baby girl named Sheryl Ann, weighing six pounds, four ounces, born March 25 at the Harrisburg hospital.
To Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Williams, 812 West Sloan, a girl named Connie Sue, weighing six pounds, eight ounces, born March 25 at the Harrisburg hospital.

In Loving Memory
In remembrance of our dear husband and father,
Glen Chrisman
who passed away one year ago today, March 26, 1953.

A year has passed of lonely nights and days,
We do not question any of God's ways,
In faith we bear the burden of our loss
As we remember Jesus bore the cross.
He bid no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none,
His loving heart ceased to beat,
Before we knew it, he was gone.

Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Lois Chrisman, and daughters, Ruth, Opal, and Kathryn Nell.

Professional Work Demands Professional Training

Professional knowledge and professional care play a large part in the filling of that prescription your doctor wrote for you. More than that, at times they are vital.

For example, consider the scientific knowledge that is essential to the correct interpretation of the following prescription:

Rx
Bar. Sulf. 3iii
M. Ft. Pulv.
Sig.—Take as one dose with wheat-meal cereal 6 hours before next scheduled examination.

His professional training immediately tells the pharmacist he must dispense barium sulfate, an insoluble powder used for certain X-Ray examinations. He carefully distinguishes between barium sulfate and barium sulfide, for the sulfide could cause considerable harm if taken internally.

Your pharmacist uses his knowledge to safeguard your health. Knowledge is the priceless ingredient in the prescription he dispenses for you.

Dorris Heights Home Bureau Has Regular Meeting
The Dorris Heights Home Bureau unit met at the home of Mrs. Charles Kiehlhorn Thursday afternoon, March 25, for the regular meeting with nine members present and two guests, Mrs. Robert Rumsey and Mrs. Harry Harper.

The lesson on "Kitchen Storage" was given by the home adviser, Mrs. Harry Harper, who showed slides of storage cabinets.

Plans were made for an all-day basket weaving meeting which will be held April 22 at the home of Mrs. Rinaldo Matthews.

All the members were invited to attend the Home Bureau exhibit to be held in Eldorado April 3.

After the meeting refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostess who was assisted by Mrs. Rumsey.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Byron Malone on April 29.

Mrs. Ed Bean recently returned from Fort Wayne, Ind., where she has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Quick. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Quick, Eldorado, also made the trip.

Senate Approves Compromise Air Force Academy Bill
WASHINGTON — The Senate has approved a compromise bill to allow the Air Force to build a 126-million-dollar academy to train future air officers.

Action came by voice vote Thursday night on an agreement reached by a House-Senate conference committee Wednesday. It goes to the House for final action before being sent to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature.

No site has been selected for the Air Force academy. Under the legislation a five-man site selection board will report "as soon as practicable" on where the school should be located. If the board unanimously picks a site, the school will be erected there. Otherwise, Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott can choose one of the three sites suggested by the board.

Training Conference for Equality, Cottage Grove Church School Workers
A training conference for the church school workers of the Equality and Cottage Grove Methodist churches will be held next week at the Equality Methodist church.

The program of study will begin each evening at 7 o'clock and close at 9:15 p. m.

Classes and instructors are: The Prophets, taught by Earl Lutz, Ridgway; Children's work, Mrs. Elizabeth Hobbs, Eldorado; Mrs. C. C. Lowe, Eldorado; Youth work, Rev. W. R. Warner, Equality; Adult and Young Adult work, Harry C. Walker, Equality, and Rev. C. C. Lowe, Eldorado.

The problems and needs of teachers will be discussed and solutions provided if possible.

This has been planned to strengthen the work of the church school and to develop leadership. Anyone interested in these courses of study is welcome to attend.

8 Believed Dead In Hotel Fire

CROOKSTON, Minn. — Fire turned the old Northwood Hotel into a "giant flaming torch" early today and eight persons were feared dead.

Five were known dead. Firemen believed three other persons had been trapped inside the wooden structure and they gingerly lifted the hot ruins for the bodies.

Two persons escaped the inferno only to die hours later at city hospitals. They were A. F. Sowi, Duluth, Minn., and Mrs. Betty Hedburg, who started working as a chambermaid only two days ago.

Two bodies were taken from the ruins, but identification was not immediately possible. One was the body of a man.

Story by Anne West To Be Portrayed on NBC TV Show Monday

Anne West of Carverville, well-known writer, will have one of her stories portrayed on the Robert Montgomery Presents program on NBC Television at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

Title of this play is "My Little Girl," adapted from a story Miss West wrote for Woman's Day, A & P magazine.

Miss West, who lives alone at Carverville, worked on newspapers at Cairo and Marion before concentrating on writing fiction. She has written for many of the better periodicals including Good House-keeping and Saturday Evening Post.

Eldorado Junior Class to Present Play 'Ah! Men!'

The three-act comedy, "Ah! Men!" by Dana Thomas, will be presented by the Junior class of the Eldorado Township high school Friday, April 2, along with the coronation of Basketball Queen.

The story takes place in the year 2050 A. D. Vast changes have developed in the world. Women have completely taken over the responsibilities in business and politics and are doing a very efficient job, they believe, although some undesirable factors are arising all along, such as the rapid decline in population.

However, at the right time, a new island is discovered, upon which are found living specimens of the human being of 1950. And it is through the influence and power of these island people that a new world is started that assures new developments and lasting prosperity.

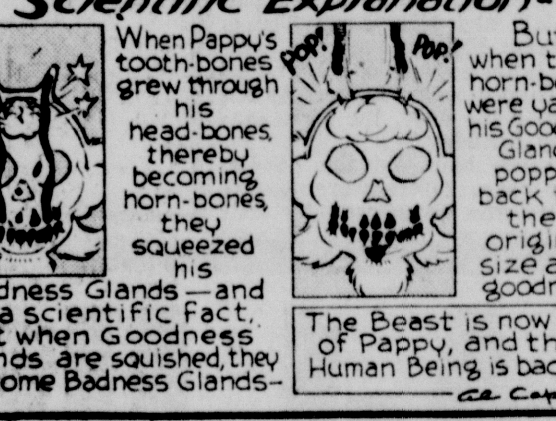

The cast includes Hodges, Marie King; Hollingsworth, David Prather; Junior, Vickie Schultz; Jetson, Phyllis Kincaid; Susan Betsford, Helen Barton; Major Betsford, Nettie Ann Gholson; Victor, Lauderbeck, Keith Whittier; Mr. Pfeffer, J. V. Dodd; Adele Betsford, Linda White; Lanny Esden, James Cox; The Honorable Binks, Janet McCallister; Snell; Shirley Nickols; Henrietta Mason; Patsy Broadhurst; Eleanor Z. Hazlett, Mary Helen Burroughs; Chadwick, Jim Lyons; Countess Von Nau, Mary Ann Gates; Herr Dittenheffer, Gene Barnett; Corporal June Harwood; and Guard, Bill Coker.

Here is a thoroughly different play that assures plenty of laughter.

A new TV listening attachment permits the video set to be used without disturbing others in the same room. The sound is carried to an earplug-like device which the user puts on. Others in the room can hear the program when the television sound is turned up in the usual manner.

Scientific Explanation-

To Sing at Bald Knob Services

A united chorus, composed of church choirs, quartets and special singers from many denominations and towns in southern Illinois, is being formed to furnish music for the Bald Knob Easter program this year.

The mountain top service this year will be in the afternoon instead of at sunrise. This is being done, say the sponsors, in order to keep from interfering with morning worship in local churches.

Attracted by the genuine spirit of unity shown in these annual services, a noted writer is at work on a story for world-wide publication and Look magazine is expected to "cover" this year's program.

The program will be from 3 to 4 o'clock Easter Sunday afternoon. There will be no sunrise service at Bald Knob.

The foundation urges every church in the area to send singers. Many have already signified their intention to be on hand including the entire Williamson county singing convention choir. All singers are invited and they are asked to attend the rehearsals.

Four old-time songs will be used and Director Edgar Rich asks that singers furnish their own books. The songs are "Christ Arose," "Awakening Chorus," "Wonderful Grace," and "He Lives."

Play April 2 at Galatia High

Seniors at Galatia high school will present their class play, "Girls Are Like That," in the high school gymnasium next Friday evening, April 2.

Preceding the play, the high school band and chorus will give a spring concert. This portion of the program will commence at 7 o'clock and continue through one hour. The play will begin at 8 p. m.

Members of the play cast are Francis Tate as Mary Jane Poole, a problem child; Ida Rodgers as Essie, a cousin; Loretta Gray, as Mom Poole, a young mother; Marlene Edwards as Virginia Poole, her favorite daughter; Donna Holt as Lillian Root, a fixer; Dorris Travelstead as Aunt Jane, a wealthy woman; Bob Otto as Jack Everett, a radio announcer; Shannon Stewart as Jimmy Shields, a stranger in town; Mary Ellen Manker as Helen, Jack's sister; and Sammy Duane as Tommy Davis, a fiance.

Rehearsals will be as follows: April 4, 2 to 4 p. m., Grace Methodist church, Carbondale; April 9, 7:30 to 9 p. m., Baptist church, Tamm; April 11, 2 to 4 p. m., Methodist church, Jonesboro; April 15, 7:30 to 9 p. m., Grace Methodist church, Carbondale.

To The Voters of Saline County

I am asking to be nominated as the Democratic Candidate for Sheriff of Saline County. I was educated in the City Schools of Harrisburg and have lived in Harrisburg all of my life. I am the son of the late Jeff and Florence Lane. I own a home in South Harrisburg and my occupation has always been that of a coal miner. I am forty-seven years of age, have a wife and five children. All of my children have attended the City Schools of Harrisburg, and have graduated from the Harrisburg Township High School. My youngest daughter is now secretary at the Harrisburg Township High School.

I realize that the office of Sheriff is one of the most important offices of the county. I also realize that the duties of the sheriff are great, and that a competent, capable man should be elected to this office. The sheriff is the protector of the rights, liberties and property of the people of his county. I also feel that a man who is elected to the office of sheriff should be a man who is free from any clique, organization, or any special group, and I am not a candidate of any clique, organization or special group. I shall be free to do the duties which are required of a sheriff.

I STAND FOR

- (1) Good government, good churches and good schools;
- (2) Honest and clean men in office;
- (3) Law enforcement in a legal way;
- (4) I believe in prosecution of law violators but do not believe in the persecution of any man.

If I am nominated and elected sheriff of Saline County, I will keep these principles in mind, and administer the duties of such office according to the law as required under official oath.

I earnestly and sincerely request your vote and support in the primary, April 13, 1954.

The Look of Tomorrow

lets you see better today

BUICK
the beautiful buy

NEVER before its introduction by Buick did you see a windshield like this on a standard-production automobile.

It comes from the experimental "dream cars" you may have seen pictured from time to time—but it's on every 1954 Buick today.

As you can see, this broadly arching sweep of glass adds new beauty and a definite look of tomorrow to the glamorous new Buick.

Even more, this stunning new windshield treatment gives you 19% more visibility — because it pulls back the corners, lets you see as a pilot sees.

But there's a lot more than "dream car" windshields to the new-day 1954 Buicks.

For these are really new cars—with new bodies, new interiors, new ride features, new handling ease—and, above all, new record-high V8 horsepower.

Come in and look them over—sit in, sample and price one of these breath-taking new glamor Buicks. It's the only way to know what beautiful buys they are in every way.

South Korean Patrol Ship Captures Two Red Chinese Vessels

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—A South Korean coast guard patrol boat fired on and captured two small Communist Chinese vessels Thursday, ROK coast guard headquarters announced today.

It was the first time since the start of the Korean war that the Republic of Korea has captured Communist Chinese vessels although patrol craft have seized small North Korean boats.

The brain of a six-foot or seven-foot porpoise averages somewhat larger than that of a man. The porpoise brain is convoluted, a situation found in animals of a high order of intelligence.

Joan Fontaine and Jack Palance are stopped by Border Police in a scene from Paramount's "Flight To Tangier," in Technicolor, to show at the Orpheum Friday and Saturday.

THE STORY: Lieut. Mark Richards of the Colorado City police force has returned from his honeymoon, bringing Joan, his bride, to investigate the death of Police Chief Otto Drover, whose daughter was a friend of Private Detective Jim Dunn. Chief Drover received a phone call from Banker Atwood prior to his murder by two "monsters" in a fake horror film publicity stunt. Atwood refused to help the police, declaring he had no knowledge that would aid the investigation.

Lieut. Mark Richards got up from the conference table where the new chief and Sergeant Early were seated, came toward Jim with an outstretched hand.

"Glad you got here, Jim. We're just starting. How is Nancy?"

"Of course. Joan and I got up early to head still farther back into the mountains. I turned on the car radio and heard. We started driving all right, but this way."

"Sorry about that part of it, Mark."

Richards shrugged. In no way at all did he resemble the self-conscious man he had been just prior to the wedding service. He was self-assured, and there was a deep, underlying happiness in him which would remain.

"A cop is like a doctor in some ways, Jim. And Joan—well, she's smiling at his personal memory, and then his face set into more usual lines. 'So let's get on with this briefing. Let's have what you've found out.'"

Mark nodded to Sergeant Early, who counted off points on his fingers. The theater manager swears he hadn't hired anyone for a publicity stunt. No reason to doubt him that I can see. He was still at the reception when we picked him up and he has witnesses to prove he'd been there all the time."

"I'll buy it for now," Mark said. "We pulled in everyone we could think of who might have had a grudge against the chief. Here in town, I mean," Early said.

Elephant Handler Falls to Death Under Train Wheels

HIGH SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—The "greatest show on earth" was detained here for several hours early today while police investigated an American Indian elephant handler's fall to his death beneath the wheels of a circus train.

State officials permitted the 36-car train of the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey circus to continue its journey to New York for an opening of its summer tour Wednesday after ruling the death of 27-year-old Kenneth Doctor was "accidental."

While most circus laborers and performers slept wearily on the train after the hard work of getting the big show ready for the road Thursday, police questioned witnesses who said Doctor fell while teetering on a flat car with a can of beer in his hand.

The death was one of three mishaps which occurred on the gaily colored train crammed with troops and animals since it left its Sarasota, Fla., winter quarters Thursday.

Police said Irving L. Holland received a possible skull fracture aboard the train in a fight with other members of the circus crew and still another employee, James T. Kelly, 42, claimed he was "thrown off the train."

VFW Officials to Dedicate New Home at Carmi

National and Illinois officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in Carmi on Saturday and Sunday, April 3 and 4, to attend the dedication of the new home of the White County Post 3851, Commander Roy Lechner announced.

Lechner of 100 Herbert Avenue, Carmi, who is Illinois junior vice commander, said that the distinguished guests will include Timothy Murphy, of Boston, Mass., National junior vice commander-in-chief, and Joseph Carnella, of Edwardsville, commander of the Illinois V. F. W. This will be Murphy's first visit to Illinois since his election last August.

The festivities, which will take place at the new post home on Main street, will begin at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, April 3, with a cocktail hour and the banquet will start at 6:30 p. m. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m.

The post home will be dedicated by Murphy and Carnella at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Other Illinois V. F. W. officials who will attend include Raymond W. Schild, of Chicago, senior vice commander; Sheldon M. Helman, of Chicago; Pauline Helman, director; and Ernest Witsman, Olney, Tenth district commander.

Methodist Dorcas Class Holds Regular Meeting

The Dorcas Sunday school class of the First Methodist church met Monday, March 15, at the home of Mary Tanner with Gertrude Russell serving as assistant hostess.

The meeting was opened with the group singing the theme song, "What A Friend," and with prayer by Muriel Thomas. Bertha Rann had charge of the devotion.

After a short business meeting, Freda Moake conducted the recreation.

The hostess and assistant hostess served delicious refreshments to Pauline Thornton, Betty Motinger, Bonnie Fort, Juanita Rodocker, Clara Edwards, Alice Wallace, Bertha Rann, Gertrude Russell, Ida Nolen, Blossom Stallions, Marge Davis, Flora Martin, Audie Henshaw, Mary Martin, Muriel Thomas, Fred Moake, Seeva Rodocker, Edna Martin, Linda Hitchcock, Marie and Carolyn Wiley.

Ginger Tanner Honored With Surprise Birthday Party

A surprise birthday party was held Saturday, March 20, for Ginger Tanner, in honor of her 10th birthday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tanner of Carrier Mills.

The little girls had all arrived when Ginger came home. As she walked in the door, the girls sang "Happy Birthday."

After she blew out the candles on her cake, games were played, and all three were won by Jody Boatright. The girls then gathered around the table while Ginger opened her many lovely gifts. Since she is collecting dolls she received a lovely Bo Peep doll from her aunt, Mrs. Jerry Cushist, of Pontiac, Mich.

Refreshments of cup cakes, with each girl's name on hers, ice cream and Kool Aid were served.

Bubble gum was given as favors to the following: Margaret Moore, Carolyn Deaton, Judy Lea Fife, Ruby Griffith, Carol Beth Noonan, Linda Hitchcock, Anna Brewster, Carol Cummins, Carol Ann Clark, Jody Boatright, Judy Farthing, Carolyn Boatright, Judy Wells, Diana Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tanner and Ronnie and Mr.

and Mrs. Jess Martin. Pictures were taken later of the group.

White Sox Hope for Quick Start As Injuries Hit Yankees, Indians, Red Sox

By United Press
The Chicago White Sox pinned their pennant hopes on a fast getaway today when the greatest rash of spring injuries in history made them the only American League contender which can open the season with every regular in the lineup.

Barring misfortune in the 19 days remaining before the season inaugurals, Manager Paul Richards will field all his first-stringers while the Cleveland Indians, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox all will be without key regulars.

The Indians were the latest to be hit by the "injury jinx" when it was disclosed that right-fielder Harry Simpson will be sidelined until about May 10 with a fractured left arm. This news followed 2 hours after second-string catcher Mickey Grasso suffered a broken left ankle which will keep him out of action at least three months.

Mantle, Williams Out
The world champion Yankees will open the season without spectacular center-fielder Mickey Mantle while the Red Sox will start the campaign with slugger Ted Williams watching from the bench. Mantle, recuperating with a knee ailment, is not expected to see action until May 1 while Williams, who suffered a broken collarbone early in spring training, may be sidelined until May 15.

In addition, the amazing succession of mishaps has claimed Dick Kryhoski of the Baltimore Orioles with a fractured wrist, Bobby Thomson of the Milwaukee Braves with a broken ankle, pitcher Bob Cain of the Philadelphia Phillies with a calcium deposit in his left wrist and Washington's Bob Porterfield, who was hit on the head by a batted ball.

Pierce Hammered
The knowledge that he now has the only able-bodied contender in the A. L., enabled Richards to shrug off an otherwise alarming performance Thursday by 18-game winner Billy Pierce. Pierce, the southpaw ace of the White Sox's staff, threw 14 of his first 15 pitches wide of the plate and was hammered for six runs in three innings as the Washington Senators cruised to a 9-2 victory.

The Baltimore Orioles, meanwhile, defeated the New York Giants, 3-1, in a six-inning game to wind up their exhibition schedule in Arizona with a 10-5 record, the best of the four teams training in the west. The Giants were 9-7, the Cleveland Indians 8-7 and the Chicago Cubs 4-13.

CAPTAIN CULBRETH CUTS CAKE—A big cake, appropriately decorated to remind fans the Wildcats were champions of the Saline County Basketball tournament, occupied a place of honor at the Carrier Mills high school athletic banquet held last night at the Masonic temple. Ron Culbreth, Wildcat captain, cut the cake as members of "first eight" and the coach looked on. Carrier Mills Lions Honor Cage Team, Cheer Leaders at Banquet

'Duster' Thomas is Guest Speaker with Three of His Players

Members of the Carrier Mills high school basketball team, managers and cheer leaders were honored guests at the Lions club-sponsored athletic banquet in Carrier Mills Thursday evening. The banquet was held in the Masonic temple, prepared and served by members of O. E. S.

Merrill "Duster" Thomas, basketball coach at Pinckneyville high school, was guest speaker and entertained the large crowd with humorous remarks and stories centered around his long and successful career as a cage coach.

Accompanying Thomas were three members of the squad he took to the state tournament this spring—Dallas Hill, senior, Jim Lazenby, a junior and Don Mar genthaler, a sophomore. The boys proved to be as adept in the knife-and-fork circuit as on the basketball floor.

When introduced, each player responded with a short talk that was well received by the crowd and brought a remark from the master of ceremonies "We expected one speaker, but instead had four."

Culbreth Thanks Fans
Carrier Mills coach Claude E. Shelton introduced the players, managers and cheer leaders, mentioned briefly the past season's record, 21 victories against four losses, and revealed that five of the squad are seniors and have completed high school play.

Ron Culbreth, speaking for the team as captain, thanked the fans and cheer leaders for the fine support and then, speaking for himself, expressed his appreciation to his teammates for their all-out efforts to make the past season a winning one.

The tables were attractive with the school colors of purple and gold used in the decorations—purple and gold streamers centered each table and bowls of purple and gold spring flowers were also much in evidence. The trophy won at the Saline County tournament occupied a place of honor and a large cake, with the words, 53-54, Champs Saline County, was the center piece at the speakers table.

Jennings Introduces Speaker
The meeting was opened with the invocation by Fred Wasson, group singing was led by Mrs. Nancy Steely, director of music at CMHS, and Harry Tanner of the Lions club. Lions president Ben Chaney was master of ceremonies and Warren Jennings, high school principal, introduced the speaker, Coach Thomas.

Basketball squad members present were Capt. Ron Culbreth, Lowell Stricklin, Jim Miller, Sterling Cowger, Vance Craig, Oliver Rollins, Jim Reeder, Max Berns, James Reid and George Allen, varsity, and Donald Absher, Lawrence Goffed, Stanley Cole, Jackie Cowger, Chester Dorris, Harold Fitts, Larry Gee, Terry Guldage.

Richard Hill, Dick King, Charles Lail, Carl Murphy, David Overstreet, Dennis Owen, Royce Rouborn, James Rouse, Richard Stewart, J. C. Storms, Jerry Sweat and John Yocum.

Joey Giardello Is Ranked Top Middleweight
NEW YORK — Sensational young Joey Giardello of Philadelphia was ranked top middleweight contender today in the Ring magazine's latest ratings.

Ex-champion Ezzard Charles replaced Nino Valdes of Cuba as the high heavyweight aspirant and young Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson of Brooklyn crashed into the top 10 among heavies for the first time.

Giardello replaced Rocky Castellani of Cleveland atop the 160-pounders, boxing's most active division, because of three straight knockouts this year over Garth Panter, Walter Cartier and Willie Troy. Castellani dropped to second rung.

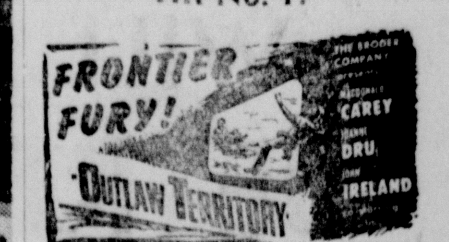

In the light-heavy division, Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla., fell from seventh completely out of the rankings because of his two beatings by unranked heavyweight Charley Norkus.

Bandit Holds Up Terre Haute Bank

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—A bandit held up the West Terre Haute State Bank today, fired a shot which grazed a federal examiner and fled with about $1,600.

William Grady, 23, Racine, Wis., who was in the bank on business for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., was wounded in one arm by pellets from a sawed-off shotgun which police believe was fired at him when he moved during the holdup.

State Police Det. Harold Roseberry said the bandit was roughly dressed and short of stature. He demanded the money from a teller, and stuffed bills of $20 denomination and smaller into a paper sack he carried.

A confederate was waiting in an auto nearby and the car sped off when the bandit ran outside and jumped in, police said.

Road blocks were set up in all directions but police were confused by varying reports as to the description of the car.

Illinois Ranks Among Top Tornado States; 917 Killed By 170 Twisters Since 1916

What can Illinois expect in the way of tornadoes for the remainder of 1954? What can we do to protect ourselves?

Official records of the Weather Bureau show that tornadoes, the most terrifying and destructive storms nature can produce, are not unusual in Illinois. They have been reported in almost every county of the state at some time.

Since 1916, more than 170 of the whirling windstorms have killed approximately 917 persons in the state and have caused property damage estimated in excess of $50,000,000.

Windstorm insurance experts for the Kemper group of insurance companies report that the death and damage tolls in Illinois are among the highest on record. The state ranks second only to Arkansas in the number of tornado deaths and second only to Oklahoma in total property damage.

Illinois has had more tornadoes than any other state east of the Mississippi river except Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

Tornadoes of unusual violence have devastated rural areas and have struck cities such as Chicago, Rockford, Mattoon, Bunker Hill, Charleston, Gillespie, Murphysboro, West Frankfort, Decatur, Mt. Carmel, Collinsville, Quincy, Belleville, Gorham, De Soto and Parrish.

The average annual number of tornadoes in Illinois is five, although there were 18 reported in 1927, 18 in 1938, 13 in 1948 and 10 in 1950. Most of them have occurred during March, April, May and June. Last year, six tornadoes caused one death and resulted in property damage estimated at $2,355,000.

What will the rest of 1954 be like? The experts refuse to go out on a limb. We can expect tornadoes, they say. But the amount of damage and destruction will depend on whether they strike in rural areas or hit densely populated cities.

Weathermen say that tornadoes are formed high above the surface of the earth when a huge mass of warm, moist air moving from the south bumps into another huge mass of cold, dry air moving from the north.

A tornado usually is preceded by several hours of sticky, muggy, warm and humid weather. The winds are light and the sky is ominous.

Sometimes you may be warned by the approach of a tornado cloud by the unusual lightning activity. Lightning associated with tornadoes is brighter and bluer than ordinary lightning. It could be described as continuous sheet lightning with an interlaced effect.

A tornado need not be funnel-shaped like the trunk of an elephant. It may appear as a large rope or a snake dangling in the sky. If the cloud is close to the earth, there may not be a funnel and the tornado may be like a whirling black fog.

Most tornadoes come from a westerly direction. About 61 per cent come from the southwest and travel northeast. Another 16 per cent come from the west and 11 per cent from the northwest. Some, however, may make U-turns while others may make complete circles.

Storm Cellar Safest Place

Tornadoes travel cross country at about 40 miles per hour. The average destructive path is about 16 miles long and about a quarter mile wide. When a tornado hits, the destruction is almost complete in its path.

The Kemper windstorm experts say the safest place during a tornado is a storm cellar or "cyclone cellar." It should be of heavy construction and have a sturdy door with a secure latch. There have been no reports of deaths among persons who have sought shelter in an adequate storm cellar.

If you don't have a storm cellar, you may find shelter in the basement of your home. Since the general path of a tornado is from southwest to northeast, crouch along the wall in the southwest corner.

Basements of brick houses may not be as safe as basements of frame homes. The frame houses give more readily against the wind. A brick house may have more resistance but can send tons of bricks crashing into the basement.

If you don't have a basement, lie flat on the first floor and try to get under something for protection from falling objects. Don't go upstairs because the upper floors are hit hardest. Stay away from windows because you may get hit by flying debris.

1925 Tornado Worst

If you are driving in your car in the country, abandon the car and lie down in a ditch, the side of a railroad embankment or a depression in the ground.

Modern steel-reinforced concrete buildings have come through tornadoes with minor damage. If you are in one of these, stay in the halls and away from the windows.

A tornado can occur at any time of the day or night. About 43 per cent of them occur between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m., the hours closely following the warmest part of the day.

The worst tornado to hit Illinois—and the worst tornado disaster in the United States—occurred shortly after noon on March 18, 1925, cutting a path a mile and a half wide from Jackson county to White county.

When the storm was over, a total of 606 persons were dead including 234 in Murphysboro, 127 in West Frankfort, 36 at Gorham and 27 at De Soto. Thousands were left homeless and the towns of Gorham, De Soto and Parrish were practically wiped out.

Other notable Illinois tornadoes include:

May 6, 1886, Chicago, no dead or injured.
June 4, 1877, Mt. Carmel, 16 dead, 100 injured.
April 14, 1879, Collinsville, one dead, seven injured.
Sept. 24, 1881, Quincy, no dead or injured.
April 22, 1887, Mt. Carmel, two dead, several injured.
Feb. 19, 1888, Mt. Vernon, 18 dead, 54 injured.
May 26, 1917, Mattoon and Charleston, 101 killed, 638 injured.
March 28, 1920, Chicago, 28 dead.
April 19, 1927, Central Illinois, 21 dead.
Sept. 14, 1928, Rockford, 14 dead.
March 25, 1935, Massac county, one dead, 34 injured.
March 19, 1948, Bunker Hill, Gillespie, 33 dead, 449 injured.

Tornadoes also hit Decatur, May 9, 1927 (1 dead); Belleville, March 15, 1938 (13 dead); Adams and Woodford county, March 30, 1938 (13 dead); and Wood River, May 21, 1949 (5 dead).

You have to expect tornadoes because they are natural occurrences. If you see or hear of one coming, remain calm and seek shelter quickly.
